

Executive Business Performance at a Glance

$5M

Revenue Generated

5K

Orders Processed

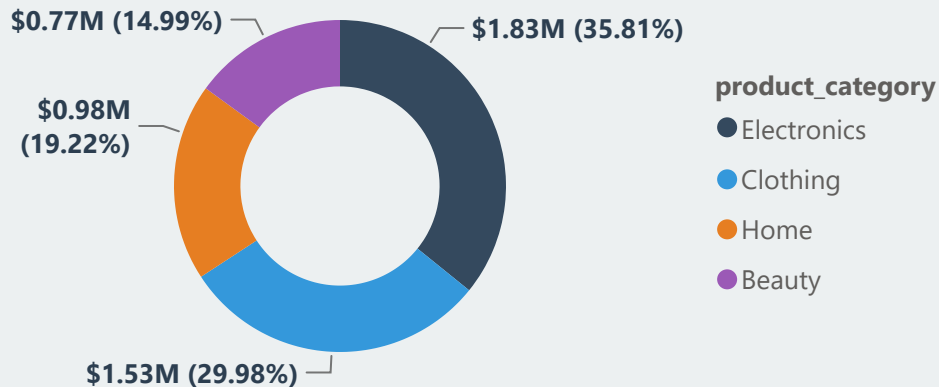

6.12

Average Delivery Time

2.97

Customer Satisfaction Score

Electronics Drives Over One-Third of Revenue While Beauty Remains the Smallest Contributor

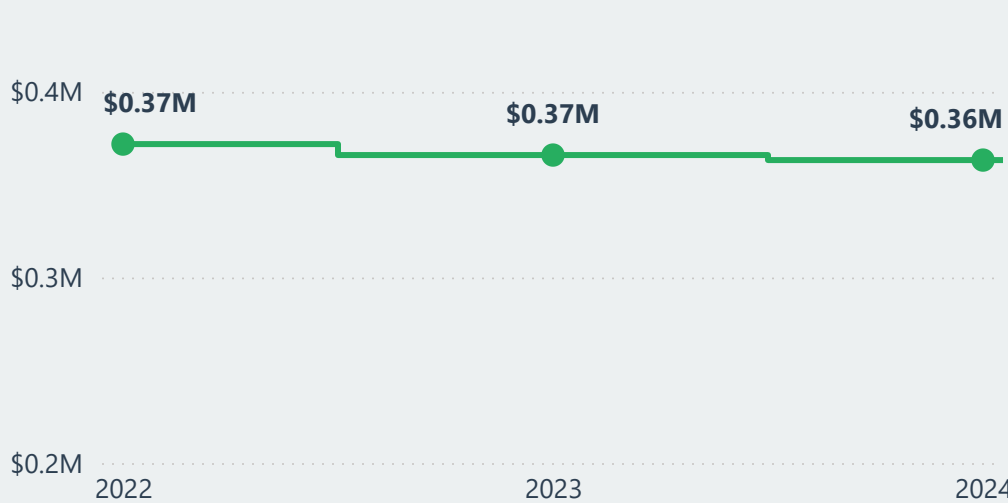

Poor Ratings Represent the Largest Share of Customer Feedback

Western Region Leads Order Volume, Though Regional Performance Remains Balanced

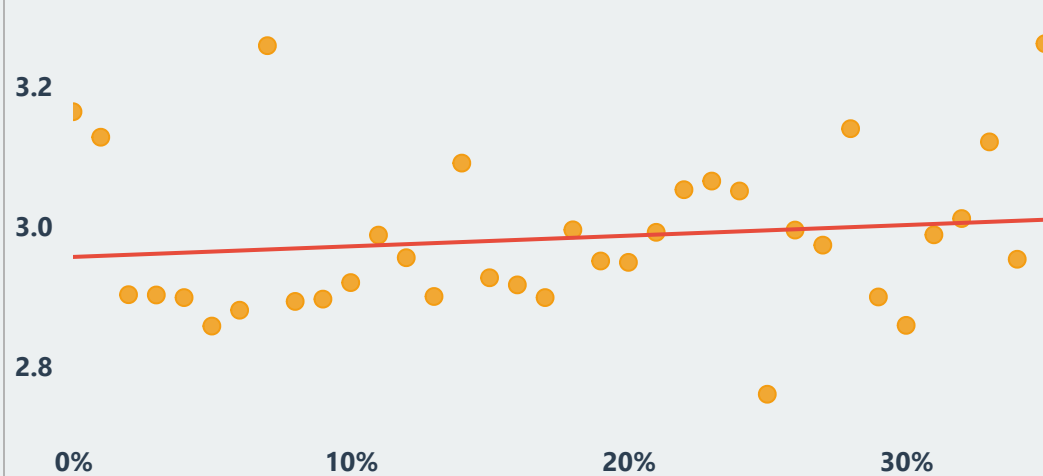

Revenue Has Plateaued Over the Last Three Years, Indicating Limited Organic Growth

How Discounting Impacts Revenue Without Improving Customer Satisfaction

Customer Ratings Remain Stable Regardless of Discount Size

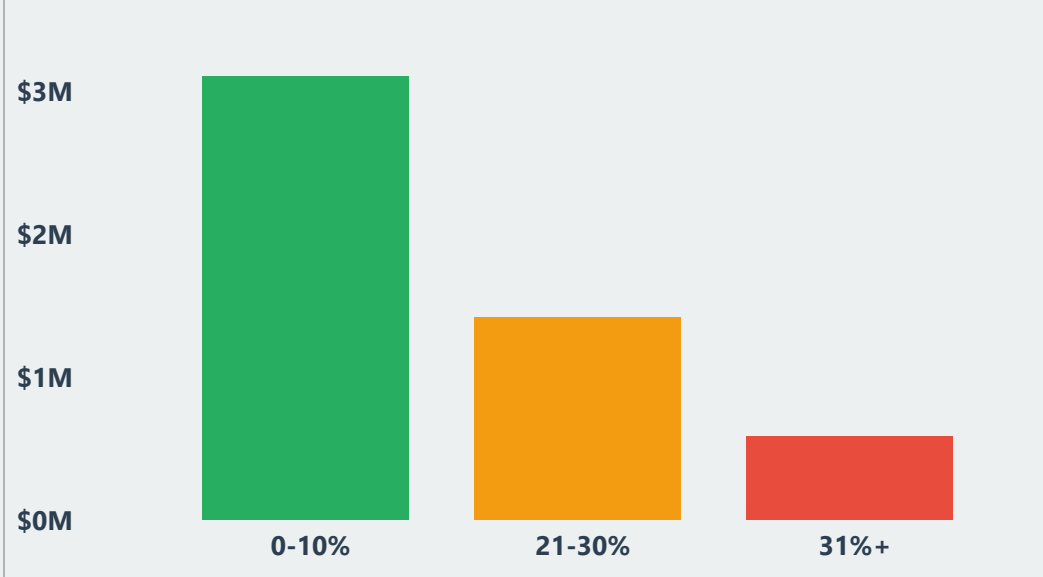

Electronics Generates the Highest Revenue Across Product Categories

product_category	Total Revenue
Beauty	$765,861
Clothing	$1,531,932
Electronics	$1,829,899
Home	$982,084

Customer Satisfaction Remains Consistent Across All Discount Levels and Regions

region	0-10%	21-30%	31%+	Total
East	2.97	2.92	3.09	2.97
North	2.96	3.04	3.02	2.99
South	2.94	2.99	3.02	2.97
West	2.95	2.94	3.04	2.96

Low Discount Orders Generate Nearly Three Times More Revenue

KEY INSIGHT: While aggressive discounts don't reduce satisfaction ratings, they DO significantly reduce total revenue. 0-10% discount tier generates 3X more revenue than 31%+ tier.

Recommendation: Lower discount intensity to 10-15% to maintain satisfaction while improving margins.

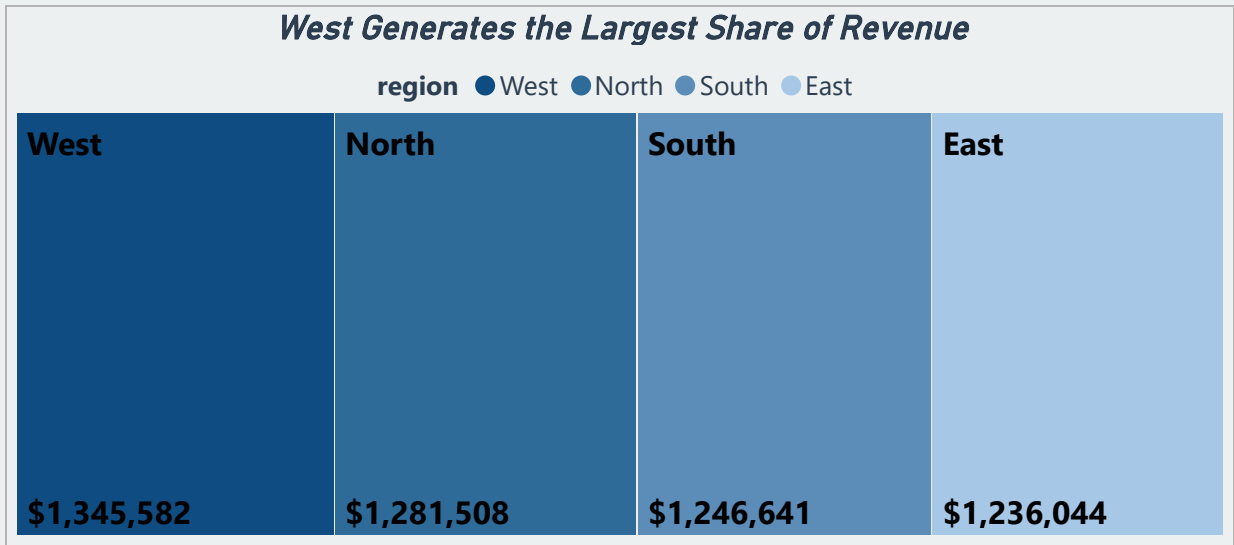

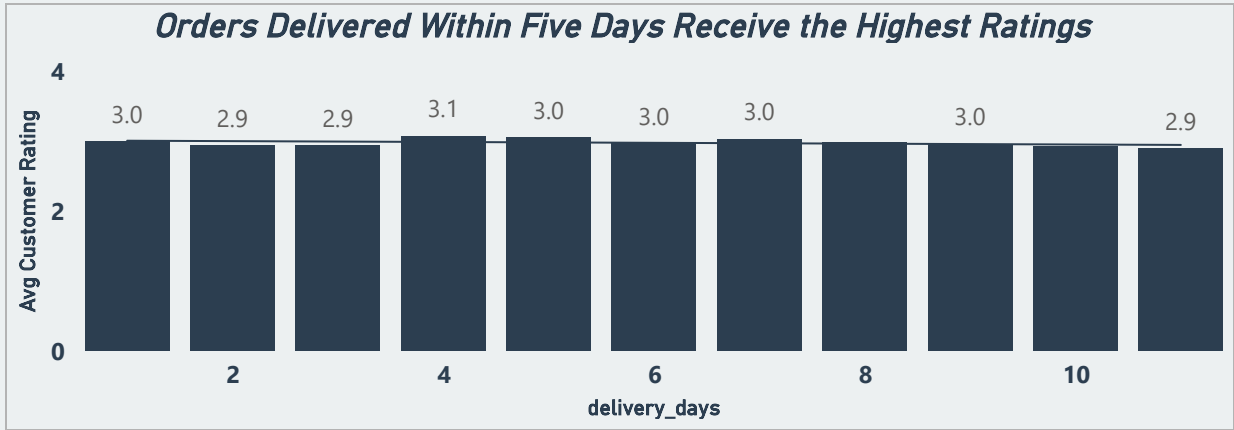

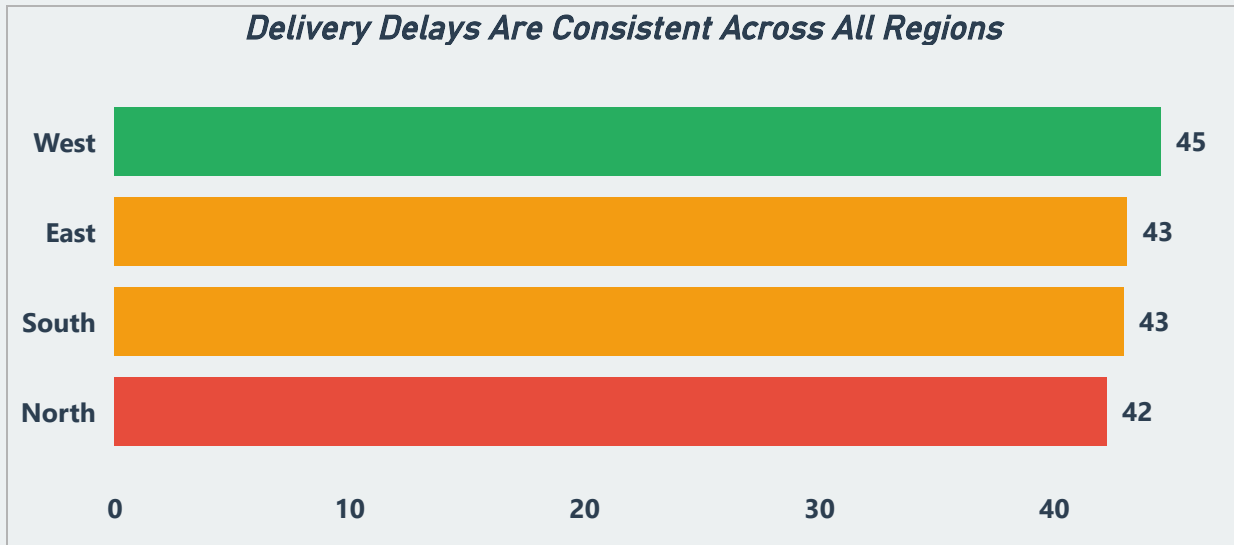

region	Average of revenue
East
North
South
West

Financial Performance

Operational
Performance

Customer
Experience

KEY INSIGHT:
Delivery performance remains the primary operational bottleneck across all regions. Orders delivered within five days consistently achieve higher customer ratings, yet every region falls significantly below the desired on-time delivery benchmark. Western Region demonstrates the greatest delivery delays, indicating an immediate need for logistics optimization. Improving delivery efficiency presents the highest opportunity to increase customer satisfaction while reducing operational complaints.

West Region faces the Longest Delivery Delays and Lowest Customer Satisfaction

Electronics Delivers Strong Margins but Heavy Discounting Limits Profit Potential

Cash Payments Generate Higher Order Values Than other Transactions

Deliveries Completed Within Five Days Achieve the Highest Customer Satisfaction